LOCATION

The subjects are positioned on the northern side of Greendyke Street overlooking Glasgow Green on the eastern periphery of Glasgow City Centre. This location benefits from excellent transport links being a short drive from the M8, M74 and M77 motorways while Argyle Street railway station, St Enoch subway station and Buchanan bus station all lie within walking distance to the north west. Other railway and subway stations are also found nearby along with public bus stops and a section of the National Cycle Route 75. Metered on street parking is available on Greendyke Street and the wider area.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects comprise a well presented retail premises on the ground floor of a prominent seven storey modern end terrace building that forms part of wider modern predominantly residential development. The subjects benefit from a large modern shopfront with full height glazing which, along with a further window on the eastern return elevation, provides great levels of natural light. The shopfront is also set back slightly from the pavement line of the building which has allowed for a small external ramp and accessible entrance to be formed.

The unit itself has a large open plan retail area that has been subdivided in part to form several private treatment rooms as part of its most recent use as an aesthetics clinic although this could easily be reconfigured to suit a variety of alternative layouts and uses as a result.

Given the nature of the space and wider building, the unit also has potential for a residential redevelopment, subject to relevant planning consents and building warrants being obtained.

ACCOMMODATION

The subjects have been configured to provide a main open plan retail/waiting area with reception, four private treatment rooms, staff kitchen, toilet and three storage cupboards.

FLOOR AREA

The approximate net internal area is 94.59 sq m (1,018 sq ft) in accordance with the RICS Code of Measuring Practice (6th Edition).
