LOCATION

Haddington is one of East Lothian's largest settlements with a resident population of approximately 12,000. The town is strategically placed approximately 18 miles east of Scotland's capital city, Edinburgh, which is accessible within 35 minutes via the A1, thus making it extremely popular amongst commuters.

The property is situated in a prominent roadside position on Sidegate to the south-east of the town's high street. Sidegate is a principal route leading out of Haddington to neighbouring villages such as Gifford and Bolton.

The immediate surrounding area is residential with a mixture of traditional terraced, detached and semi-detached properties. There is a mixture of retail, restaurants and cafes on Hardgate and the High Street.

The nearest railway station is 4 miles away at Drem providing regular services to Edinburgh Waverley. There are also several direct bus links to Edinburgh and surrounding districts.
